

COMPREHENSION-BASED CHINESE

Comprehension-based language teaching strategies to develop students' Chinese proficiency in listening, speaking, reading, and writing

Diane Neubauer 杜雁子

Your recipe book for Chinese language teaching!

本书用英文讲中文教学策略

This practical new guide provides a straightforward process for instructors to begin or expand their comprehension-based, communicative language teaching strategies for language proficiency and intercultural learning. The strategies in this book focus on helping students connect meaning to the sounds of Chinese by first hearing it in interesting contexts and then reading that newly familiar language. Through this process, students naturally acquire grammar, pronunciation, and word usage.

KEY FEATURES:

- Diverse Strategies: Offers a range of activities tailored to various teaching styles and student preferences.
- FAQs Section: Provides practical solutions to common challenges Chinese language teachers face.
- Video Examples: Includes embedded links to readily available videos that demonstrate how to implement activities in the classroom.
- Versatile Instruction: Adapts to both in-person and online teaching environments.
- Classroom Expectations: Clearly outlines what to expect for effective teaching.
- Visual Aids: Utilizes images and tables to enhance understanding and application.

Purchase the eBook today!

Exclusively in eBook+ format with links to other resources and video examples.