ABOUT THIS BOOK

关于本书

This volume is the first book in a larger theme of “Cultural Heritage” (文化遗产). The sub-theme of this book is “All About Me in My Chinese World” (我和我的中文世界). The underlying idea of the book is “Let Me Tell You Who I Am” (让我告诉你我是谁). The story is developed based on four major strands, all of them common to the experience of young children:

- (1) months and birthdays;
- (2) friends and hospitality;
- (3) activities at a birthday party;
- (4) presents and thanks.

A birthday party is the context for helping young learners to discover similarities and differences in the way children celebrate and play together in another culture. The calendar and counting take on greater meaning when they are associated with planning a birthday party. Greetings, children’s games and songs, and the excitement of birthday food and presents help learners to develop useful phrases and vocabulary that they can use beyond the classroom.

本书以生日会为主轴，让儿童透过生日会里的种种游戏以及食物去发现他们的生日会和其它不同文化背景儿童的生日会有何异同，也借着筹备生日会让儿童来学习看月历和数数，如此学习变得有趣又有意义。本书所提供的问候，游戏，儿歌，童谣，以及儿童最感兴趣的生日会食物和礼物都可以帮助儿童学到非常有用的词语，让他们可以马上应用在教室外和日常生活里。

Quick wrap-up/ review 总结/复习 (3 min)	Laoshi creates a chant or rhyme to review the months from “一月” to “四月”. Have the whole class stand up and recite the chant together. Students can clap hands or dance while they recite the chant.
Closing routine 收场 (2 min)	Have the students say “再见” to Laoshi and to each other. End today’s lesson with the 再见歌.

Day 2

Preview, review, and “teaser” 卖关子与复习 (8 min)	a) Classroom routine: Greeting. b) Introduction of password, or review of classroom rules. c) Number counting: 1-8. Use the activity introduced previously, mixing up the numbers so that they don’t occur in sequence — perhaps go from 1 to 4 to 7 to 8 children, for example. Have one or two children sit down and count again. When there are 8 children standing, count the number of boys and girls, etc.

	d) Teaser: Laoshi places flashcards for the 12 months of the year across the board in front of the room (or on the floor in the center of the circle), naming them as they are put in place. Point to the two parts of the word, guiding the children to see the separate hanzi for the number and the 月. Use the Chinese calendar pages to show the relationship between the calendar and the flashcards. Tell the children, “Today we are going to find out about someone’s birthday (show a picture of a birthday party, a birthday cake).”
The “Big Event” 课堂活动 (15 min)	Page 2 a) Laoshi brings out a dragon puppet or stuffed animal as Xiaolong (小龙). Introduce Xiaolong to the class. Have him bow to each child in turn and say, “Hello, (child’s name). (XX, 你好。)” Prompt each child to say, “Hello, Xiaolong. (小龙, 你好。)” b) Turn to Xiaolong and say, “Xiaolong, when is your birthday? (holding up picture of birthday cake). (小龙, 你的生日在几月?)” Xiaolong acts very shy. Prompt children to repeat the question with you. Xiaolong responds, “My birthday is in August, (我的生日在八月。)” and points to August on the calendar pages spread across the board or the floor. Laoshi says, “In August?” (在八月?)” Xiaolong repeats, “Yes, in August. My birthday is in August. (是, 八月。我的生日在八月。)” c) Turn to a child and tell Xiaolong, “Tell (name of child) about your birthday. (告诉 X X 你的生日是几月。)” Pretending to speak for Xiaolong, say, “My birthday is in August. (我的生日在八月。)” Hand Xiaolong to that child and tell Xiaolong, “Tell (name of next child) about your birthday. (告诉 Y Y 你的生日是几月。)” Prompt the child holding the puppet to speak for Xiaolong, and say, “My birthday is in August. (我的生日在八月。)” Repeat the activity around the class until every child has had a chance to “speak” for Xiaolong. d) Students follow Xiaolong puppet in counting the months from January to August, using the calendar. Ask the children if they see anything that looks the same on every page. If no one discovers it, help them to discover the recurring character 月. e) Play the “Finding Buddy Game” (找朋友游戏) with the Lotus rhyme (only chant to August). 荷花, 荷花, 几月开? 一月不开, 二月开。 二月不开, 三月开。三月不开, 四月开。 四月不开, 五月开。五月不开, 六月开。 六月不开, 七月开。七月不开, 八月开。

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Students walk hand in hand in a counter-clockwise manner while reciting the Lotus Rhyme. Right after the students say “八月开”, Xiaolong then says “二月” while holding up the number flashcard.</li> <li>• The students then forms groups of 2. If Xiaolong says “三月” while holding up the number flashcard, the students then need to form groups of 3.</li> <li>• Repeat with numbers 1-8.</li> <li>• Save the 7 and 8 until the end, because they will be the hardest. Perhaps finish with 8, and leave out 7.</li> <li>• After the students seem very confident in forming their groups, Xiaolong only holds up the flashcard without saying the number. If students hesitate and cannot seem to follow, repeat the number aloud.</li> </ul> d) KC Workbook pages 1-2: Play KC Teacher CD (Track 3), guide students to follow the instructions. Students are supposed to say the rhyme, follow in clapping their hands and finally circle the month they like.
Tone practice 声调练习 (2 min)	六, fourth tone (第四声).
Quick wrap-up/ review 总结/复习 (3 min)	Laoshi creates a chant or rhyme to review the months from “一月” to “八月”. Have the whole class stand up and recite the chant together. Students can clap hands or dance while they recite the chant.
Closing routine 收场 (2 min)	Put the puppet(s) away in the “house” and have the students say “再见” to the puppet(s). Have the students say “再见” to Laoshi and to each other. End today’s lesson with the 再见歌.

Day 3

Preview, review, and “teaser” 卖关子与复习 (8 min)	a) Classroom routine: Greeting. b) Introduction of password, or review of classroom rules. c) Number counting: count numbers 1-12. Use the activity introduced previously.
	d) Review: Laoshi uses Xiaolong puppet to greet some students and the students have to respond to Xiaolong puppet. e) Teaser: Show a new puppet to the class. The new puppet introduces himself to students around the class. Laoshi asks the new puppet, “(Puppet name), when is your birthday? ( X X 你的生日在几月? ) ” When the puppet doesn’t respond, prompt the class repeat the question with you. The new puppet reads the months loudly when he is flipping through the calendar or counting off the months from January to December and then points to the last month in the calendar and says with excitement, “My birthday is in December. ( 我的生日在十二月。 ) ”
The “Big Event” 课堂活动 (15 min)	Pages 3 and 4 a) Students follow the new puppet in counting the months from January to December, laying the month flashcards on the floor in the center of the circle, or attaching them to the board at the front of the room. b) Make a birthday graph. Give each child a small cutout of a birthday hat or a birthday cake, all the same color and with space to write the child’s name. Tell the children to write their names on the birthday symbol, and model the process with your own name, Laoshi, and with the names of Xiaolong and the other puppet. Then model placing your birthday symbol under the appropriate month flashcard, saying, “My birthday is in (name of month). ( 我的生日在……月。 ) ” Follow the same procedure with each of the puppets, repeatedly modeling, “My birthday is in (name of month). ( 我的生日在……月。 ) ” Invite volunteers to come up and locate their birthday month and attach their birthday symbol in the appropriate place. Help them to repeat, “My birthday is in (name of month). ( 我的生日在……月。 ) ”

	TEACHER TIP: Be sure you have researched the children’s birthdays, so you can assist them if they are uncertain. If a child says the birthday month in English, provide the Chinese phrase and point to the correct month. To maintain attention while every child has a turn, after two or three children have put up their symbols, ask, “When is (child’s name)’s birthday? When is Xiaolong’s birthday? (XX的生日在几月? 小龙的生日在几月?)” And so on. When all the children have put their birthday symbols on the graph, count the number of birthdays in each month. c) Recite the “Month Chant”. 一月, 二月, 三四月, 五月, 六月, 七八月, 九月, 十月, 十一十二月。 d) Laoshi can use percussion instruments to reinforce the rhythm. e) Sing the “Month Song” (月份歌), using the melody of “10 Little Friends”. Laoshi may choose to play KC Teacher CD (Track 7) for the students. 月份歌 一月二月三月四月, 五月六月七月八月, 九月十月十一月十二月, 我的生日在十二月。 f) KC Workbook page 3: Play KC Teacher CD (Track 5), guide students to follow the instructions. Students are supposed to say the rhyme, follow in clapping their hands and finally circle the month they like
Tone practice 声调练习 (2 min)	九, third tone (第三声).
Quick wrap-up/ review 总结/复习 (3 min)	Laoshi creates a chant or rhyme to review the months from “一月” to “十二月”. Have the whole class stand up and recite the chant together. Students can clap hands or dance while they recite the chant.
Closing routine 收场 (2 min)	Put the puppet(s) away in the “house” and have the students say “再见” to the puppet(s). Have the students say “再见” to Laoshi and to each other. End today’s lesson with the 再见歌.

Day 4

Preview, review, and “teaser”  卖关子与复习  (8 min)	a) Classroom routine: Greeting.          b) Introduction of password, or review of classroom rules.          c) Review: Laoshi leads the class as they count the months loudly while Laoshi flips through the calendar.          d) Teaser: Xiaolong puppet counts the months. Laoshi asks the puppet, “Is your birthday in January? ( 你的生日在一月吗? )” The puppet shakes his head and laughs. Laoshi makes several more wrong guesses, encouraging the children to ask the question, too. Finally Laoshi or a child guesses correctly and Xiaolong points to the month and says, “My birthday is in August ( 我的生日在八月。 )” Laoshi counts the calendar and then ask the class, “Is my birthday in (name of month)? ( 我的生日在……月吗? )” Follow the same procedure as with Xiaolong, ending with the actual birthday month.
The “Big Event”  课堂活动  (15 min)	Pages 5 and 6 a) Laoshi calls several volunteers to come to front and count the calendar and say their birthday month in Chinese. b) Game: My Birthday is Coming ( 游戏: 我的生日快到了 ) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Laoshi announces, “Let’s play a game! ( 我们来玩一个游戏! )” Laoshi turns around one time and announces, “I am Sun Wukong (or another silly, fanciful character or name). My birthday is coming, my birthday is coming. When is my birthday? ( 我是孙悟空。我的生日快到了, 我的生日快到了。猜一猜, 我的生日在几月? )”</li> <li>• Laoshi then dramatically pulls a piece of paper from a “magic bag” or a hat or another hiding place. In the bag, prepared ahead of time, are slips of paper with all the months of the year written in Chinese.</li> <li>• Laoshi looks at the paper again and asks, “When is my birthday? ( 猜一猜, 我的生日在几月? )” Prompt the children to guess the birthday month, asking, “Is your birthday in ____? ( 你的生日在……月吗? )”</li> <li>• Accept the guesses and help children form the question. When a child guesses correctly, that child becomes Sun Wukong and draws a new month from the bag.</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>If children need more support for their guesses, remove the incorrect month from the months on the board or in the center of the circle. Put them up again after each turn, having the children say the months with you.</li> </ul> c) Ask students to turn to a neighbor and take turns saying, “My birthday is in (month). (我的生日在……月。)” d) KC Workbook page 4: Play KC Teacher CD (Track 10). Students are supposed to read after the CD and circle the months representing Dayong’s birthday, Dayong’s Mom’s birthday, and their own birthday.
Tone practice 声调练习 (2 min)	四, fourth tone (第四声). 生, first tone (第一声).
Quick wrap-up/          review 总结/复习 (3 min)	Have the whole class stand up and recite the chant “月份歌” together. Students can clap hands or dance while they recite the chant.
Closing routine 收场 (2 min)	Put the puppet(s) away in the “house” and have the students say “再见” to the puppet(s). Have the students say “再见” to Laoshi and to each other. End today’s lesson with the 再见歌.

Day 5

Preview, review,          and “teaser” 卖关子与复习 (8 min)	a) Classroom routine: Greeting. b) Review all the classroom rules. c) Review: Count the month from January to December. d) Laoshi asks children, “Whose birthday is in January? Raise your hand. (谁的生日在一月? 请举手。)” Count the number. Ask about several months, not in order. Finally, ask about the next month after the current month. For each child whose birthday is in that month, say, “(Child’s name)’s birthday is coming soon! (XX 的生日快到了!)” Have the children repeat, and perhaps turn it into a chant: “(Child’s name)’s birthday is coming soon!” Ask about a month recently past. Then ask, “Is (Child’s name)’s birthday coming soon? No, it’s very far away. (XX 的生日快到了吗? 不是。)” Repeat the questions a few times, changing the month.
--	---

The “Big Event”  课堂活动  (15 min)	Page 7  Laoshi incorporates the I Can Statements and designs this review lesson. Make sure all students have an opportunity to demonstrate what they can do. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Ask two volunteer students to come up to point his birthday month in the calendar and say “My birthday is in (month). (我的生日在……月。)”</li> <li>Sing the “Month Song” (月份歌). Refer to KC Teacher CD (Track 7).</li> <li>Play the “Finding Buddy Game” with the 荷花 rhyme.</li> </ol>
Literacy activity  读写练习  (3 min)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Show students the big flashcards with hanzi “生” and “日”. Have students find the hanzi “生” and “日” in the classroom. Lead students to write “生” and “日” in the air. Emphasize the proper strokes and stroke order.</li> <li>Use visuals, props, and gestures to recognize and practice tracing, coloring, or writing “生” and “日”.</li> <li>Laoshi may refer to KC Workbook page 5 and guide students to trace the hanzi “生” and “日” on the book.</li> </ol>
Quick wrap-up/  review  总结/复习  (2 min)	Laoshi uses the hanzi flashcards to play with hanzi identification game. Students are asked to either identify the pronunciation or the meaning of the hanzi they see. Laoshi reads the text of the entire lesson to the class. Then, students are to repeat after Laoshi. Or, Laoshi may choose to play KC Teacher CD for all the pages of Lesson 1 and have the students recite with the CD.
Closing routine  收场  (2 min)	Use the I Can Statements in KC Workbook page 6 (KC Teacher CD, Track 12) as assessment. Have students make a check next to the statements. If puppets are used for the day, put them away in the house and have the students say “再见” to the puppets. End today’s lesson with the 再见歌.
