In order to expand to meet the needs of the fast growth of China's economy, we decide to add a special Chinese version. We will provide the enterprise members with the following services:

First, we set up a window for clothing enterprises so that you will be able to get orders from consumers all over the world. Second, as soon as you join this web, you must exclude yourself from other web services of the similar kind.

Third, you must hold the license issued by local industrial and commercial administration.
