

Editors: Tong Chen, Min Wan, Mairead Harris, Yuqi Gao, Lijuan Guo

Publisher: Cheng & Tsui

Publication Date: 2020

Format: Paperback, 324 pages

Audience: Novice High School/ College

ACTFL Level: Advanced-Mid to Advanced-High

To purchase, contact:
sales@cheng-tsui.com

初级汉语语法教学：教学策略及课堂活动 Teaching Basic Chinese Grammar: Communicative Strategies and Activities

Developed by active, seasoned instructors from the Middlebury College Summer Chinese School, this handbook supplies teachers with classroom-tested instructional strategies and activities to help students comprehend, internalize, and effectively use Chinese grammar patterns to communicate early and often. An extensive online exercise bank offers students ample practice opportunities in all four language skill areas, while saving teachers time and hassle.

Highlights

- Follows the scope and sequence of Integrated Chinese Volumes 1-2
- Clear, concise explanations of 140+ fundamental grammar points
- Multiple sample sentences illustrate each grammar structure in context
- Analyses of common student errors are accompanied by strategies

Testimonial

“Teaching Basic Chinese Grammar serves as a useful and practical reference book for teachers and independent learners alike, especially for those who work with Integrated Chinese. We highly recommend this book to novice teachers who are less experienced in teaching grammar, as well as professionals who may want to improve their skills.” — Ziyi Geng and Yali Feng, University of Virginia and Georgia State University

CHENG & TSUI

Since 1979 | Boston, MA USA